“Why Don’t They Understand Us?” – Thaddeus J. O’Brien, PhD
President of O’Brien & Associates, Inc.

At times, the biggest challenge in managing a project is the ability to communicate effectively with civil officials that we work with on a project. This technical session is designed to understand our differences in communication style and to improve our communications skills as we relate to people sitting across the table from us in a meeting.

COST: $20.00 for members or $10.00 for Students
